Trip Overview

The Rara Lake Trek is a popular trekking route in Nepal, known for its stunning landscapes, diverse flora and fauna, and unique culture. The trek starts and ends in Kathmandu and takes approximately 10 to 12 days to complete. The main highlight of the trek is Rara Lake, the largest lake in Nepal, which is located within Rara National Park. The trek takes you through the protected area, which is rich in biodiversity and offers opportunities for wildlife spotting. The trek also takes you to a remote and less-visited region of Nepal, where you can experience the local way of life and interact with friendly inhabitants. The trek offers a unique combination of natural beauty, cultural exploration, and an off-the-beaten-path experience, making it a remarkable journey for trekkers. The Rara Lake Trek is a picturesque and less-visited trekking route in Nepal's remote far-western region, focusing on the largest lake in Nepal and one of the most pristine high-altitude lakes in the Himalayas. The trek starts from Jumla and takes travelers through Rara National Park, a protected area with diverse flora and fauna. The main highlight is reaching Rara Lake, which is situated at an altitude of 2,990 meters (9,810 feet). The trek passes through remote villages, scenic landscapes, and Murma Top, offering panoramic views of Rara Lake and the surrounding mountains. The trek typically takes 10–14 days, depending on the itinerary and acclimatization days. The best seasons for the Rara Lake Trek are spring (March to May) and autumn (September to November), when the weather is stable and the skies are clear. Proper gear, permits, and acclimatization are essential for a successful and enjoyable trek to Rara Lake.
